

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

In this chapter, the researcher presents conclusion and suggestions.

5.1 Conclusion

Based on the findings, the researcher concludes that in general, the ability of the third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University in writing cause – effect paragraph was good. It was proved by the fact that there were 11 students (35.59%) had good ability. In specific, the researcher draws six conclusions as follows:

1. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to write a topic sentence of cause – effect paragraph is very good because most of the students had understood how to write topic sentence clearly in the paragraph.
2. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to write a supporting sentences of cause – effect paragraph is low because they were still unable to support the topic sentence and main idea.
3. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to write a concluding sentence of cause – effect paragraph is also low because they were still not able to restate or give comment about the paragraph related to the topic given.

4. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to use grammar in writing cause – effect paragraph is very good because most of the students had understood how to use correct grammar transitions and adverbial clauses in a sentence.
5. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to use vocabulary in writing cause – effect paragraph is also very good because most of the students had understood how to choose the appropriate vocabularies to express the ideas in a sentence.
6. The ability of third year students at English Department of Bung Hatta University to use mechanics in writing cause – effect paragraph is low because most of the students ignored the correct use of mechanics such as punctuation, spelling, and capitalization in writing a sentence.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the conclusions above, the researcher gives several suggestions as follows:

1. The researcher suggests to the lecturers to give more practice to the students in writing cause – effect paragraph in order to improve their writing ability. Specifically, it is suggested to the lecturers to give the students more practice to write topic sentence. Supporting sentences, concluding sentence, using correct grammar, vocabulary and mechanics.

2. The researcher suggests the students to do more practice in writing cause – effect paragraph, and to pay attention to the components of cause – effect paragraph such as topic sentence, supporting sentences, concluding sentence, grammar, vocabulary and mechanics.
3. The researcher suggests to the next reseracher to do research of cause – effect paragraph from different aspect.