

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

In the novel The Help by Kathryn Stockett, the research focuses on the discussion of the main character's conflict, which here focuses on the characters who have traits that will cause the conflict. And this study also analyzes the setting in Nove The Help by Kathryn Stockett, from which the writer can draw conclusions.

After conducting this research, it turns out that there are a lot of influences, especially the characters that exist in each of the characters that the writer analyzes in the novel The Help by Kathryn Stockett, where the writer can conclude that the character of each character has different traits between someone such as good, evil, compassionate, kind and many more. Therefore, the author will present the conclusions that can be drawn in the novel The Help by Kathryn Stockett. that is, different characters and different traits will cause conflicts, including internal and external conflicts, and is complemented by settings, namely the setting of place and setting of time.