

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

Based on the findings of the research and discussions of the findings as already discussed previously, the researcher draws some conclusions and suggestions.

5.1 Conclusions

Based on the findings of this research, the researcher concluded the specific conclusion about students' self-confidence in presentation:

1. The second-year students' got 8 students (21,62%) had high self-confidence in presentation and 29 students' (78,38%) had moderate self-confidence in presentation at the English Department of Bung Hatta University.
2. The second year students' had self-confidence in presentation at the English Department of Bung Hatta University in terms of believe in own abilities (76,31%) were classified moderate.
3. The second year students' had self-confidence in presentation at the English Department of Bung Hatta University in terms of acting independently making decisions (69,41%) were classified moderate.
4. The second year students' had self-confidence in presentation at the English Department of Bung Hatta University in terms of positive feeling (76,17%) were classified moderate.
5. The second year students' had self-confidence in presentation at the English Department of Bung Hatta University in terms of dare to express the opinion (79,35%) were classified moderate.

5.2 Suggestions

Based on the conclusions above, the researcher proposed some suggestions as follows:

1. The lecturers who teach the listening subjects are recommended to improve and strengthen students' self-confidence by creating a supportive classroom environment that encourages students' to speak up and participate in oral activities without feeling anxious.

2. The students' are Students in foreign language classes must pay attention to their self-confidence in learning to speak English. Because we already know that increasing self-confidence is able to facilitate language acquisition in theory and practice.
3. The future researcher is suggested to investigate how the students' can have moderate of self-confidence.